To Fight in the Woods,

The above statement by the club means that the fight will be fought in the woods, where the Southern Associated Press correspondent announced it would have to take place weeks ago.

Everything now depends on the ability of the promoters of the fight to keep the place selected a secret from the authorities, for if it becomes known Governor Mitchell will undoubtedly have troops on the scene. It is understood that the club people have purchased a huse circus tent capable of holding 6,000 people, and will bring the men together under the canvass, is to the probable location of the contest, to the probable location of the contest, hint will be given by the club office. A large and enthusiastic audience wel comed Archie Boyd in the "Country 'Squire" at the Academy of Music last evening. All coolness appeared to have been left outside, and the audience settled down for an evening of merriment. The down for an evening of merriment. The "Country 'Squire" is similar in aimost every respect to the "Old Homestead." but it lacks many of the qualities of that great delineator of country life. Mr. Archie Boyd, who will be remembered as "Josiah Whitcomb," in the "Old Homestead." appears to even better advantage in the "Country 'Squire," and, in fact, he might well be said to be the whole show; without him the play would be a show; without him the play would be a

When the Democratic caucus of the General Assembly on Friday last passed by the nomination for circuit judge of the Eleventh district, it was done at the request of Senator Mushbach and Delegate Bendheim, of Alexandria, who desired to enable the friends of Judge Norton, of the Corporation Court of Alexandria, to secure as much information for the benefit of their candidate as possible. The friends of Mr. C. E. Nicol, the dele-gate from Prince William, and the oppos-ing candidate, readily agreed to the post-ponement, and the impression created in the postome quarters that this agreement showed weakness on the part of Mr. Nicol's friends was entirely erroneous.

Since then the situation has hardly changed any. The canvass has been kept up with energy on both sides. While but very little has been mentioned to outsiders, it has been apparent to those who professed to know more about it that the chances of Mr. Nicol were the better ones for a number of days passed.

"Liverpool started off very well, as the decline at the opening was only 2-61, of which one was recovered before we opened here. This market immediately moved downward after the opening, at last night's prices, and declined 7 points, recovering, however, all it had lost, closing firm. There have heen some very good Liverpool cables here to-day, one from a prominent house, expressing the opinion that the market had unduly depressed, and saying a sharp reaction would come, as trade was in a healthy condition. All markets have felt the influence of the movement to-day, which at ports is 27,-300, against 13,000 last year, and the interior is also larger. The semi-weekly report from thirteen points show receipts of 39,000, against 30,000 last year, but a loss in stocks of 18,000 as compared with the same day last week, indicating a total loss for the week at twenty-four weekly reported points of 25,000 to 30,000 bales, whereas the loss in stock at thirty-one important points in the South lost only 13,000 stock in six weeks from January 12th, last year. We shall have to increase our estimate of the amount coming into sight this week from 15,000 to about 155,000, against 142,000 last year, but we still adhere to our beilef that we shall be at the end of the month about 200 bales less than four years ago, the crop of which year was 7,311,000 bales. The southern spot markets are 1-16 to 4, lower to-day, so far as they have been reported here, but exporters say they are unable to buy conton on a shipping bales. An favorable change in the attaction termins very largely with Liverpool where they still continue to take spot conton freely, the pales to-day beins 2-

Ar favorable change in the situation ternains very inractly with Liverpeed where they still continue to take spot cutton freely, the rates to take spot cutton freely, the rates to take spot cutton freely, the rates to take spot cotton freely, the rates to take spot cotton freely, the rates for the movement as it ild has scale after the movement shows a decided diminution as compared with last year. The bears call attention always to the movement of tweive months ago, knowing that for this week, and next, it would be a very bearish comparison, whereas we should not compare with what was the smallest January movement for many years, but the crop of 1880-70, the figures of which should be taken comparatively in forming some idea as to what is to come in sight for the remaining months of the cotton year. It must not be forgotten that we shall lose in July and August of this year 100,000 bales at least compared with that which came into sight last year, but this is another builtsh feature the bears naturally keep in the dark. There may be no permanent improvement until the crop movement justifies more active and general buying than does the present scale of receipts, although we still adhere to a maximum estimate of 7,200,000 bales, even though Neill confirmed yesterday his October estimate of 7,700,000 minimum. We do not fear that he will not reduce his estimate in the near future." THE COTTON MARKETS.

CHICAGO.

CHICAGO, Jan. 17.—The wheat market opened to-day under the depressing influence of a disheartened feeding in the buildance of a disheartened feeding in the buildance. Yesterday afternoon one or two of the leading professionals who are not scrupulous as regards the rules prohibiting the practice, sold the market off on the curb, and prices were laboring under that handicap at the start to-day. Offerings were free, and for a short period it looked like a stampede by New York and other outside points came to the rescue, buying orders in liberal numbers. The effect of this buying was, of course, an advance in prices. Weaker cables and fine weather had much to do with the weak opening. May opened by under yesterday at 64%c, closing %c, under yesterday at 64%c, closing %c, under yesterday at 64%c, was, as a whole, steady. The market opened &c, under yesterday; close CHICAGO. Give.

Oats—There was a moderately good trade in the May option, but other futures were duil. The close was about \(\frac{1}{2}c\), over Tuesday's figures.

Provisions were weak at the start on lower prices for hogs, with a large run on them. Later in the session a further decline in prices at the yards was reflected in the provision market by a much weaker tone and corresponding recession. The close showed a loss of 25c. for the day in May pork, 15c. loss in May lard, and 12\(\frac{1}{2}\)elice. loss in May ribs.

At a meeting of the vestry of chace church, heid at the rectory January 16, 1884, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Whereas, in the Providence of God, our esteemed friend and valued senior warden, William D. Gibson, has been removed from us by death; therefore, be it Resolved (1). That we, his colleagues in the vestry, feel that in his death we have each lost a personal friend, our church a liberal supporter, and our vestry one of its most interested members and wisest counseliers and the church militant an earnest soldier.

Resolved (2), That we sincerely thank Almighty God that we confidently believe that our loss is his unspeakable gain, and that the loss of a soldier from the ranks of the church militant has only added another redeemed soul to the hosts of the Church triumphant.

Resolved (3). That we, the remaining members of this body, are reminded by his removal to the invisible world that our time of service is short and that our day of account draws near, and that we should set our houses in order, be more faithful in our duties, and prepare for the summons which comes to each at an hour that he knows not of.

Resolved (6). That we extend to his family our sincerest sympathy in their bereavement: that we commend them to the deeper and more potent sympathy of Him who is the "Resurrection and the Life," and that we reloide with them that they need "not sorrow as those who have no hope," knowing that "whosoever believeth in Him shall never die."

Resolved (6). That these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of the vestry, published in the daily Richmond papers and in the Southern Churchman, and that a copy be sent to his family.
